Dear Cindy & Heidi,

Just a short note to thank you for allowing Bob to come out and film some of the animals in your care. We're really sorry to hear about the beautiful sandhill crane, but glad to have had the opportunity to film such a lovely bird. Perhaps her short life will have served some purpose, even if only a minute one, of furthering the importance of saving the precious wild animals and birds who share our space on this planet. I'm sure her story will touch the hearts of many.

Bob thought you may enjoy seeing the new series of The Joy of Painting (the 26th), which includes Cindy with the great horned owl on program 2607 (he is also shown at the end with the program credits); Cindy, the sandhill crane and the Sherman fox squirrel on program 2610; and Little Bit is shown again on program 2612.

Hope you enjoy them.

Sincerely,

Nancy
